

ALEXANDRIA.

TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 12.

upon the idea that "first come first served," for there never was such urgency. It would seem that such unusual haste would be revolting, but it apparently isn't. The corpse is not permitted to become cold.

OF ALL the cabinet of President Cleveland, Mr. Whitney seems alone to occupy any space in the public eye. The rest have been relegated to privacy, especially Mr. Garland, who has "gone out" entirely.

NO, GENERAL LONGSTREET will not go as minister to France. That's too much for the South to expect. He will, however, be content with a position in Washington, and it is well it is so.

It is given out that Mr. Cleveland has his eye on the presidency for 1892, but with his late experience it can hardly be imagined that he has any serious idea of trying it over again.

IT MAY be said that Col. John S. Mosby has made no application whatever for any position under the new administration; but that he will be "taken care of" no one doubts.

From Washington.

(Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12, 1889.

A dispatch was received here to day that the court of West Virginia to which the election case of that State was referred, this morning rendered a unanimous decision to the effect that the course of the democratic Governor and democratic members of the Legislature during the whole of the existing differences was perfectly right, proper, legal and constitutional, and just as it should have been; that the Legislature should not have counted the vote for Governor, and that the Governor should hold over until his successor shall be sworn in. Governor Wilson will now call an extra session of the Legislature, when the legal vote of the State will be counted, and Governor Fleming, his democratic successor be declared elected.

It is understood that at the democratic Senatorial caucus this morning Mr. Kenna of West Virginia called attention to the unseemly haste in the demand for the resignation of the U. S. District Attorney for West Virginia and the reported intention of appointing as his successor the chairman of the republican committee of that State, though it was well known that the former was possessed of all the information necessary for the prosecution of the parties guilty of the recent election frauds in his State, and was pushing their cases as rapidly as possible. The impetuosity, under the circumstances, of the demand referred to, was severely censured, but as the caucus could do nothing in the matter, no formal action was taken with regard to it.

It is given out at the Postoffice Department to-day that efficient postmasters now in office, who have not been adversely partisan, will be allowed to retain their places until the expiration of the terms for which they were appointed; that the selection of their successors will be referred to the republican congressmen from their districts, and in districts represented by democrats to the republican Senators from their States; in districts from which there are neither republican representatives nor Senators, to the republican candidates for Congress at the late election.

Mr. Hawley, who though a North Carolinian by birth is one of the republican Senators from Connecticut, now occupies the seat in the Senate that was filled by Mr. Riddleberger in the last Congress. Mr. Riddleberger is indisposed at his rooms at the Metropolitan Hotel. He has not as yet called either upon the President or Secretary Blaine.

The republican and democratic caucuses of the Senate having framed their respective portions of the Senate committees, that action was reported to the Senate to-day, and the committees as framed were elected. Of course all the important committee chairmanships go to the republicans, the democrats getting two unimportant ones.

General Mahone is still here. He was to have gone to see the President yesterday, but whether he did or not, the Virginia republicans here don't know to-day, as they found it impossible for them to find him yesterday. A change has evidently come over the anti-Mahoneites here who are applicants for office in respect of their opinion of the General's influence with the administration, for they are seeking the General's endorsement of their applications.

It is reported among Virginia republicans here that Mr. Wise went to the White House to recommend a friend for the Richmond postoffice; that Mr. Harrison asked him if the place was vacant; that the reply being that the term for which the democratic incumbent was appointed would not expire for some time, probably more than a year, the President responded to the effect that if at the expiration of that time Mr. Wise would recommend a suitable republican successor, his recommendation would probably be adopted.

Col. Mosby came here to draw the fourteen thousand dollars which had been awarded him by the Court of Claims for fees collected by him as consul to Hong Kong, but by him turned into the Treasury, but finds to his surprise that three or four days before the expiration of the late administration the State Department took an appeal, which puts the claim on the docket of the U. S. Supreme Court where it may remain for years before it can be reached. In cases of this sort the government has ninety days in which to appeal, and in the case referred to it waited for eighty-seven days before availing itself of that privilege.

A census of the democratic Senators was held this morning at which the democratic members of the Senate's committees were selected. Mr. Barbour is a member of the following committees: Interstate Commerce, Education and Labor, Expenditures of the Executive Departments, Pensions, and the Potomac Flats. It is possible he may make a change or two with his colleagues, Mr. Daniel.

The remains of the late Representative Townshend were deposited in a vault at Oakwood cemetery here this morning. The funeral services were held at St. Matthew's Church. They were attended by a large number of Senators and Representatives, among them Senators Ingalls and Bacon.

The action of Mr. Blaine in making Mr. Belmont's successor his first nomination is commented upon unfavorably to day by republicans as well as democrats, the prevailing opinion on the subject being that his spitefulness was too apparent, and that it was too little for a man really great.

J. S. Hooten, of West Virginia, is an applicant for the place of superintendent of mail service for the 34 division, comprising the States of Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and a part of Maryland.

A BIG ICICLE—In one of the great canons out west there is an icicle 1,000 feet long. A local paper thus describes it: "A volume of water unusually large for this season of the year, is falling over the perpendicular wall at the head of this canon about an even thousand feet in height. The falls are encased in a great tube of ice, which, when the sun strikes it, looks like a gigantic column of crystal standing upright against a precipice. Within the torrent fumes and boils with a deafening roar akin to thunder."

Gretchen.

Her wealth of tangled yellow curls,
Her eyes emerald blue,
The crimson dye of lips and cheeks
Ouvie the rainbow's hue.
Two dimples nestle in her cheeks,
And one imparts her chin;
Her sunny smiles play hide and seek,
To chase them out and in.

What a refreshing picture of youthful beauty and sweet temper! And Gretchen owes it all to the splendid health she enjoys. ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 12—In the continued absence of the Vice President Mr. Ingalls acted to day, as yesterday, as president of the Senate.

The message of the President transmitting the papers in the case of Louis Riel was presented and laid on the table.

After a wait of several minutes Mr. Edmunds broke the stillness by a statement that he had been requested by Mr. Platt to say that the gentlemen representing both sides of the chamber who had in charge recommendations for the committees of the Senate would be ready to call attention to the subject in a very short time, and to ask the Senate to remain in session or to take a short recess.

No motion for a recess was made, and the Senate continued in session without any attempt to transact business.

At 12:15 Mr. Platt asked and obtained unanimous consent to have suspended so much of the rules as require the standing committees to be elected by ballot and to require the election of a committee on expenditures of public money, that committee to be represented by one on the "organization, conduct and expenditures of the Executive departments."

Mr. Platt then offered a resolution (which was agreed to) for the election of standing committees. The changes in the committees of the late Senate are few.

At 1:45 p. m. a long and interesting discussion took place on a motion made by Mr. Payne to strike from the list of select committees the one on "relations with Canada."

The motion was finally withdrawn and all the select committees were agreed to.

The nominations sent in to day were referred to appropriate committees and the Senate then adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12—The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day:

Arthur C. Mellette, of Watertown, Dak., to be Governor of Dakota.

Geo. W. Irvin, of Montana, to be Marshal of the United States for the Territory of Montana.

Smiley N. Chambers, of Indiana, to be United States Attorney for the District of Indiana.

George S. Batcheller, of New York, to be Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, vice Hugh S. Thompson, resigned.

Albert G. Porter, of Indiana, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Italy.

John A. Egan, of Illinois, to be Minister Resident and Consul General of the United States to Denmark.

The President also sent in the nominations of a number of postmasters and two assistant surgeons in the marine hospital service.

Nominations Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, March 25—The Senate this afternoon confirmed the following nominations:

Thomas W. Palmer, of Michigan, to be Minister to Spain.

John F. Swift, of California, to be Minister to Japan.

John D. Washburn, of Massachusetts, to be Minister to Switzerland.

George C. Tichenor, of Illinois, to be Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Attempted Murder and Suicide.

DETROIT, Mich., Mar. 12.—Late last night Nelson Brule shot Miss Ida Corneau in the head and then put a bullet into his own skull. Brule, who is the son of the postmaster at Lake Linden, in the upper peninsula, met Miss Corneau last summer while she was visiting friends at Lake Linden, and some time later they became engaged.

Brule came to Detroit three weeks ago intending to remain until after the marriage. A few days ago, however, she learned that he was a married man and refused to have anything further to do with him. Last night they met on the street. After walking a short distance he threw his arms around her and kissed her and then drew a revolver and shot her in the ear, and then shot himself in the head. The woman's injuries are not considered dangerous, but Brule will probably die.

Drilling the Blind.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Mar. 12.—An interesting exhibition military drill by seventeen sightless young men, ranging in age from 16 to 20, was witnessed yesterday by a legislative committee visiting the Illinois Institution for the blind. The class was put through the foot movements according to Upton's tactics. Several members of the class were afterwards put through the manual of arms, and showed remarkable proficiency, and greatly enjoyed the exercise.

Wilson is Still Governor.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 12.—The Supreme Court this morning decided in the Goff-Wilson gubernatorial mandamus case that Gov. Wilson is entitled to hold over until such time as the contest between Fleming and Goff shall have been settled; or, in other words, Goff is not entitled to the seat on the ground that the returns were not declared by the legislature. The fight will now be between Wilson and Carr on a quo warranto proceeding.

LA CONTE.—Ex-Senator Warner Miller was asked yesterday if he was pleased with the selection of Batcheller as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

"I am not running this administration," he replied.

"Is he a good man for the place?"

"I have nothing whatever to say."

"I hear that you endorsed him."

"I am not responsible for what you hear."

"Do you think he will make a good officer?"

"I have nothing whatever to say on the subject."

He threatened to kill her and her little children if she should scream.
